

TANYA IN 5

I.M.S

The פריערדיקער רבי said,

"I would like to reveal to you a secret. One should clearly know by heart the first twelve chapters of Tanya precisely with all the letters and with the forward of "Aleichem Ishim Ekro," and when one lies down to sleep and get up, and wherever one goes, one should review this in speech and thought."

*-Likutei Dibburim, chelek 4,
pg. tof shin yud beis*

A Chossid once came to his first Yechidus with the Rebbe. He asked the Rebbe, "how can I be Mekushar to the Rebbe?"

The Rebbe answered him, "You should learn Tanya Baal Peh and review it in the street. This way you will be connected to me, because I also review Tanya in the street."

- 'Reb Mendel' p. 108

Reb Mendel Futerafas's mashpia demanded from him to study Tanya by heart. Reb Mendel would later say that during the difficult years he spent in the labor camps and prisons, what sustained him was the Tanya and Mishnayos that he had memorized and would review.

For this reason, he would also demand from the Bochorim in Kfar Chabad Yeshiva to learn Tanya Baal Peh, and he would test them (being particular about every letter).

"After 3 years of Tanya in 5, today our 6th graders know 9 prokim of Tanya by heart"

*-Mrs Goldie Azimov,
Principal, Cheder Menachem NJ*

In memory of Nosson Deitsch OBM, a young bochor who learned and continued to review all 53 Prokim by heart until his passing on Lag BaOmer 5770.

Tanya in 5

Each class spends 5 minutes a day learning Tanya Baal Peh. Together as a class you build day by day, month by month, and year by year.

GOAL: By the end of elementary school, each child will know the first 12 prokim of Tanya by heart.

Grades	Suggested weekly Quota	Lines per year	Total lines
Pre 1A	¼ line	12	12
1 st Grade	½ line	24	36
2 nd Grade	¾ line	36	72
3 rd Grade	1 line	48	120
4 th Grade	1 ½ lines	72	192
5 th Grade	2 lines	96	288
6 th Grade	2 ½ lines	120	408
7 th Grade	3 lines	144	552
8 th Grade	3 lines	144	696

HOW? It's as simple as 1, 2, 3:

1. Give your students the “Tanya with nekudos” page that you are learning from the Resources page.
2. Press play on the “Tanya CD” and review the Tanya together with your students.
3. Continue each day until your students know that track well, then move on to the next track.

Tricks of the trade:

1. Children should keep the Tanya papers in their siddurim, so they are accessible.
2. Never move on to a new track before all the children know the current track well!
This becomes an incentive for children to memorize the lines so that they can move forward.
3. As the teacher, your chayus and the way you get your children involved, will determine the speed at which your class will move forward! The difference could be learning 5 lines in 2 weeks vs. learning 5 lines in a month!
4. Each day review from the beginning of the Perek and continue until where you are holding.
5. Congratulate the children publicly on their progress. If a child is falling behind, give them the encouragement they need.

In memory of Nosson Deitch OBM, a young bochur who learned and continued to review all 53 Prokim by heart until his passing on Lag BaOmer 5770.

I.M.S: Individualized Motivational System

GOAL: To motivate each chayol to learn as much Tanya Baal Peh as s/he can by his/her Bar/Bas Mitzva.

Using the Tanya in 5 in your class will set the speed that your class will learn at. By 8th grade the students will know 12 Prokim by heart.

Individualized Motivational System awards the chayolim with millage and medals for their weekly accomplishments.

Because not all children have the same capabilities, the motivational system is personalized for each child. Children who cannot be expected to keep up with the class can be awarded for what they are capable of doing and children that are able to do more can be expected to go ahead of the class.

“Even children who have problems with reading- for them, davening from a siddur is a struggle- joined, and now know prokim by heart.

*-Rabbi Sholom Heidingsfeld
Teacher, Cheder Menachem LA*

TUTORIAL

Hitting it off

1. Fill in the Hachloto Form

To begin the TBP Launch in your school, make sure all your Chayolim fill out the TBP Hachloto Form and hand it back in to you (if this was not done by 19 Kislev).

To print, follow

>Reports

>TBP Hachloto Form

>Print

This Hachloto form accomplishes 2 things:

1. Chayolim feel they made the Hachloto.
2. You will need the info from this form in step 3 of the tutorial.

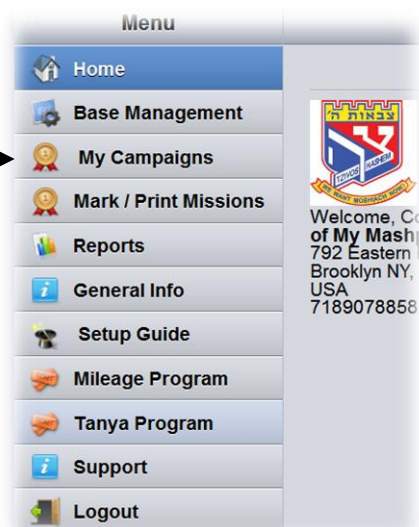

2. Enroll your base into the TBP campaign

> My Campaigns

> Tanya Baal Peh

> Enroll my Base in this Campaign

3. Enroll each chayol into the TBP campaign

You can do this in either of 2 ways:

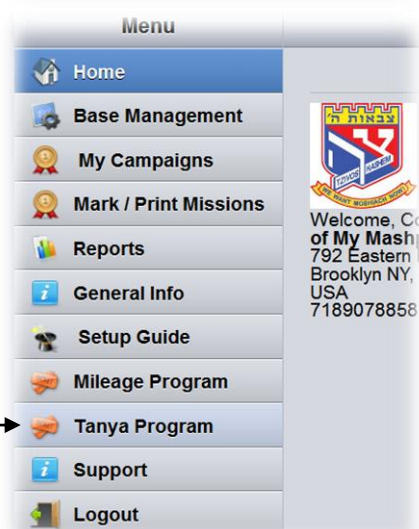

a. Chayolim can enroll themselves in the campaign through the kiosk.

(see tutorial video- www.tzivoshashem.org/nossonstanya)

b. You can enroll the chayolim through

>Tanya Program.

(Note: this will open up a new window.)

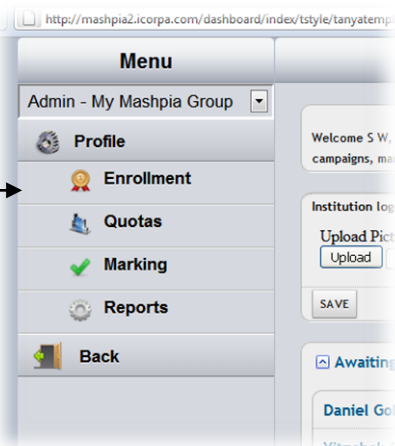

> Enrollment

Use the returned Hachloto Form (step 1) to enter

> how many lines s/he already knows >what his/her weekly quota will be

Mazel tov- chayolim are now enrolled!

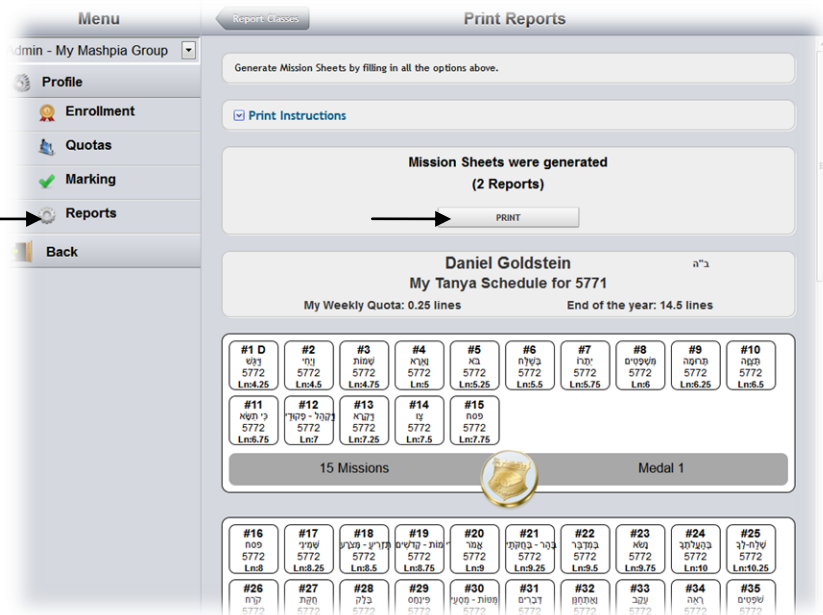

4. Print TBP Schedule

Each chayol has a schedule of what they will learn, when they need to know it by, and when they will earn their medals.

Chayolim keep this report in their sticker binder, under the TBP tab.

>Reports

>Print

5. Resources

To aid the chayolim in their learning, under the Resources tab, print Tanya with Nekudos and download the music tracks of TBP CD.

6. Learn

See Tanya in 5 for details.

7. Test

Print the testing paper.

>Marking

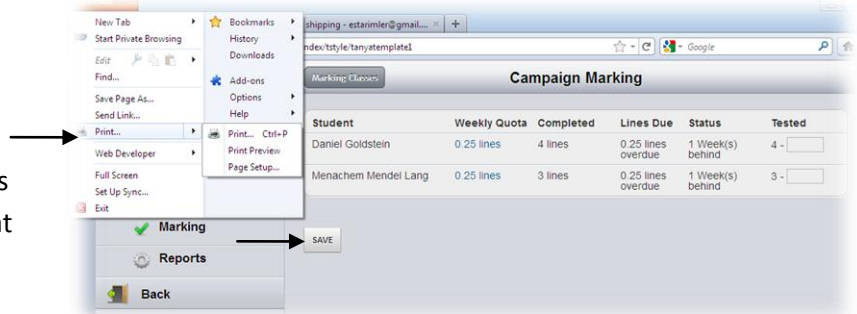

>Select Class

>Print

As the tester listens to the chayol, s/he marks the lines completed. The tester also signs that box on the schedule, and gives the chayol a sticker for the sticker chart. Then,

>Enter the data into the system.

>Save

- It's your choice how often you test. Once a week is best. At minimum, one a month chayolim should be tested.
- You want you chayolim to master it. Once a month, review Tanya from the beginning of Perek Alef. This will commit the prokim to memory.
- Parent Accounts. Each parent has an account that has a TBP tab- the BC can decide if parents should be able to mark or not. Allowing parents to mark will take a load off your shoulders - now parents can learn, test and mark TBP for their children! Parent TBP Tutorial will be coming soon.
- Get commanders involved to test! Don't only rely on teachers; anyone can be a commander. Parents, 8th graders, High School Students: they can each have a 'buddies' that can test chayolim weekly, and teachers only have to do spot checks.
- Quotas are always flexible. You can always change quotas, using the Quota tab. You can edit the weekly quota for each chayol. You can also Select All and change an entire class's quota.

Hatzlocha Raba!

Benefits of this campaign:

- Control – every child is in control of his personalized quota. On the kiosk he can choose a quota from ¼ line a week – to 5 lines a week. The child can always go to the simulator and change his quota if he feels he can do more.
- Commitment – because there's a weekly mission the child will feel the need to constantly be learning. The stats bar and his schedule will let him know that a mission is pending if the quota was not filled.
- Mastery – because the child needs to constantly be tested on everything he learned, he will constantly review it and he will IYH walk out of elementary mastering a huge amount of Tanya Baal Peh.
- Success – because every child has a quota small enough for him to accomplish he will feel successful as he completes his quota. He will also realize that these small steps are helping him reach his ultimate goal for his/her bar/ bas mitzvah.
- Contribution – the thermometer on the home page will help the child recognize how his participation affects the global amount of Tanya being learned by children around the world.
